

Donor Privacy Policy

Updated June 2022

The Virginia War Memorial Foundation (the Foundation) depends on the trust and support of its donors to meet its mission of to support the Virginia War Memorial in its efforts to preserve the stories of veterans who made the ultimate sacrifice, to honor all veterans and active-duty military, and to inspire love of country through education. Maintaining and strengthening this trust will always be of utmost importance to the Foundation.

The Foundation maintains a database of names and addresses of those persons who have supported us financially. We mail or distribute electronically publications, invitations, and funding appeals to our constituency database in order to inform and to strengthen our financial security.

The Foundation will not trade, rent or sell its donor list to any other organization or individual. This policy applies to donor information received by the Foundation electronically, in written format or by oral communications. We will not send information unrelated to the Foundation to our donors on behalf of other organizations.

The President of the Foundation approves any use of the donor list.

Donor Recognition

The Foundation proudly lists the names of contributors in its publications, online, and onsite. Names are listed without any other identifiable personal information and are only listed in categories of giving or in ranges of dollar amounts, not by a specific gift amount. Every donor is given the opportunity to be listed as anonymous. Donors in categories up to $250.00 might not be listed by name.
